A "WINKER" AS AN ADVERTISER.

PLAN FOR BIG "AD" SUGGESTED.

The Daily News believes in Daytona; it is for Daytona first, last and all the time. It believes that for beauty, both natural and artificial, it has all other Florida towns skinned a mile." If there is any other town on the Florida map, a real one-enough, wide-awake, snappy, up-and-doing, go-after-it, get-there sort of town, the Daily News hasn't seen it, and no other certainly in making a "noise that sounds like a town."

There is a little blur way over on one side of the map where a little steam now and then emits that sounds like "Petersburg," but it is intermittent and may "peter" out.

Daytona must continue to lead the way; she must continue to give the things large an exhibition of speed that will make their heads swim; she must continue to hand out the very latest to the outsider.

It is in consonance with this idea of progressiveness and of keeping a wide lead over the procession that the Daily News conceived the idea of a big crescent of incandescent lights spelling "Daytona" in bold, brazen letters. This crescent of letters to be suspended near the P. K. C. station where passengers of all the trains could "sit up and take notice," and that all of them would rush to the windows and "admire" them to no doubt.

Manager Gunn, of the Reliable light plant, says it would be easy to arrange and that it need not cost a big lot of money. Manager Gunn could arrange a "winker," a cluster of red and blue lights whose winking at the nocturnal pilgrims would fix their gaze upon "Daytona" in her flaming letters.

So town in christendom was ever so a-winked; it would be a tin-strike. Why not?

The Daily News believes that the electric light people will carry out the idea at a comparatively trifling expense to the city. If thought best the lights could be turned on only a little while at rush time, or it could be used throughout the night.

The electric light plant has just established at its own expense an arc light to light the entrance to the grounds. This could be substituted and the city pay whatever additional expense the substitution might involve.

What say you, everybody?

ELIMINATE THE GAP, COMMISSIONERS

COMMISSIONERS, TAKE NOTICE.

* * *

In the Daily News of January 9th, under its title of "Titusville, Meet Us Half Way," comment was made on the good condition of the road south to Oak Hill and to the impassable gulf between Oak Hill and Titusville. Editor Walton of the East Coast Advocate reproduces the Daily News article with this comment:

"A good idea, Brother Fitzgerald, but how about Volusia county fixing about six miles from Oak Hill to her south boundary?

"Brevard has a good road for more than six miles north of Titusville and advocates of continuing the road are met with the question, 'Why lay out money for the completion of the road when six miles of the most impassable road lies in Volusia county?'

"Automobiles cannot, as a rule, come south of Oak Hill, and without the road from that point to the boundary line being fixed the money to continue our portion would be practically wasted.

"Build your road to the division line and then we have to doubt but that Brevard will make the connection.

"It is Volusia county's next move."

So here is the situation: Brevard won't extend her shell road north to send Volusia because Volusia has the gap of unfinished road, and Volusia wont go on south of Oak Hill because when she reaches her southern boundary Brevard has a gap of abominable road almost impassable for automobiles.

Well, what is to be done? Wouldn't it be a good idea for the commissioners of each county to appoint a committee of say two to meet with the committee of the other county, confer with them and formulate plans, and decide how best to fill in these gaps? Let Brevard and Volusia meet half way, that is, at their respective county lines, and let them take up the matter conjointly and push the two ends conjointly, and by another season Daytona and Titusville will witness daily visits of tourists from one city to the other.

The Daily News feels warranted in saying that Daytona, Port Orange, New Smyrna and Oak Hill will join enthusiastically in the movement for the completion of the Volusia end if assured beyond peradventure that Brevard will meet them at the line.

Take the matter up with the powers that be, Editor Walton, and see whether they think it worth while.

THE REV. J. E. OATES RESIGNS PASTORATE.

* * *

He Will Leave DeLand Three Months Hence For Former Pastorate In England.

It was something of a surprise to the Daytona friends of the Rev. J. E. Oates, pastor for some years past of the DeLand Baptist church, when the reverend gentleman announced a few days ago that he must sever his connection with the DeLand people.

He went to the DeLand pastorate from St. Augustine and since his stay there he has increased the membership very largely, paid the church debt, installed a new pipe organ and renovated and greatly improved the interior of the church.

Mrs. Oates, like her husband, was highly esteemed and will be missed. Her singing was one of the appreciated features of the services and the congregation are reluctant to give her up.

They return to a former pastorate near Manchester, England.

Attorney E. F. Oates, of the law firm of Fitzgerald & Oates, this city is an only son, and the friends join him in wishing the elder Oates a safe voyage and happy reunion with relatives and friends in Old England.

New York World And Other Papers Resisting Efforts of Courts In Panama Probe.

(By United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Arguments were heard today by Judge Ward in the United States Circuit Court regarding the validity of subpoenas served upon two employes of the New York World, calling them to testify "generally" before the Federal Grand Jury regarding matters not named but believed to be the Government's desire to obtain information concerning the publication of Panama Canal charges. Attorneys for the World argued against the legality and the subpoenas, contending that by the term used no defendant is named, nor is the nature of the matter mentioned upon which the witnesses are called to testify. The argument was continued until this afternoon.

At no time did Mr. Willet call the President by name but the inference was strong. Among the more picturesque designations used were "tyrant," "puppy descendant of a Dutch trader," "fountain of fallibility," "definition of a king," "horse hero," "Texas leader" and "gargoyle."

TWO HANDSOME YACHTS ARRIVE HERE SATURDAY.

* * *

The Pueblo and the Grey Duck both of Boston, arrived Saturday from the north, having come from St. Augustine by the inland route.

The boats are sister yachts, the Grey Duck, however, being the larger of the two. The boats have been out from Boston harbor about a month, having had almost twelve hours of continuous sailing from here to Key West, Cuba, after leaving the West Coast to Fort Myers where the winter will be spent, returning north in the early spring.

Both boats were built by the Murry & Tregurtha Company of Boston. The smaller, the Pueblo, was originally built for Mr. Swinburne, of the party, but was not large enough to suit him and was sold to W. A. Robbins, also with his wife, is cruising southern waters in the winter. The Pueblo is 50 feet over all, 12 feet of which is bowsprit, 40 feet on deck keel, 13 feet 6 inches beam, 5 feet draft. She is owned by Capt. Robbins, and is manned by Captain Nash, navigator and engineer for the above company.

The Grey Duck is 70 feet over all, 11 feet 6 inches beam, 6 feet 6 inches draft.

FIVE ELKS IN A COLLISION.

STEERE'S CAR HITS A COW.

* * *

Saturday afternoon L. F. Steere in a Pope-Toledo touring car with five Orlando Elks as passengers, was leisurely returning from New Smyrna when, about a half mile this side of the great shell mound, a big milch cow which had been quietly browsing by the road side suddenly elevated her head and Spanish and becoming panic-stricken made an effort to cross the auto path.

The old cow was there first and, probably "ruminating" on the old dogma, "The old cow, she crossed the road, she died, she did sir;
And the reason why she crossed the road was because she could, she could sir."

She thought she could continue to cross the road as will. Be this as it may, the big mule hit the new broadside and all fell in a heap, the cow underneath Mr. Steere, big Elks and the Steere car on top! It is needless to say the cow was her finish then and there.

The party saw the futility of trying to get out of the mix-up in time to reach town so they walked to the nearest telephone and called for G. F. Criswell, who went down and brought the party back.

The party had gone down to New Smyrna expecting to take a train for home but missed connection and were returning to Daytona when they were the victims of the accident. This occurred about five o'clock and the boys got back to town an hour later, none the worse for the shake up.

The figure 5 seems to have figured conspicuously in the accident. There were five Elks, it happened at five o'clock, they had traveled 25 miles, the cow was five years old as shown by the five wrinkles in her horns, had five teats and supplied milk for five children. She was five feet tall and the big car went ten feet into the air when it hit her and all went down over a five-foot embankment.

The five Elks walked each a mile (five miles to telephone, had to plank down about two one-dozens to get back home, about five miles, and, after a five-hour rest here, they caught No. 5 for home.

FIVE ELKS IN A COLLISION.

STEERE'S CAR HITS A COW.

Saturday afternoon L. F. Steere in a Pope-Toledo touring car with five Orlando Elks as passengers, was leisurely returning from New Smyrna when, about a half mile this side of the great shell mound, a big milch cow which had been contentedly browsing by the road side suddenly elevated her head and fly-brush and becoming panic-stricken made an effort to cross the auto path.

The old cow was there first and, probably "ruminating" on the old doggerel,

"The old cow, she crossed the road, she did, she did sir;
And the reason why she crossed the road was because she could, she could sir."

she thought she could continue to cross the road at will. Be this as it may, the big auto hit the cow broadside and all fell in a heap, the cow underneath; Mr. Steere, big Elks and the Steere car on top!" It is needless to say the cow saw her finish then and there.

The party saw the futility of trying to get out of the mix-up in time to reach town so they walked to the nearest telephone and called for G. F. Caswell, who went down and brought the party back.

The party had gone down to New Smyrna expecting to take a train for home but missed connection and were returning to Daytona when they were the victims of the accident. This occurred about five o'clock and the boys got back to town an hour later, none the worse for the shake up.

The figure 5 seems to have figured conspicuously in the accident. There were five Elks, it happened at five o'clock, they had traveled 25 miles, the cow was five years old as shown by the five wrinkles on her horns, had five teats and supplied milk for five children. She was five feet tall and the big car went five feet into the air when it hit her and all went down over a five-foot embankment.

The five Elks walked each a mile (five miles) to telephone, had to plank down about five simoleons to get back home, about five miles, and, after a five-hour visit here, they caught No. 5 for home.

THEODORE E. BURTON, OHIO'S SENATOR ELECT.

Theodore E. Burton, the Ohio senator elect, is a product of the Western Reserve and probably has a larger personal acquaintance in the state than any other man. He prides himself on the fact that he can call more men in Cleveland by their first names than any one else in the city. He has a keen sense of humor and can tell a story with the best story tellers. He is long, lean and rugged, but his face is kindly, open and impressive of candor and dignity.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Jan. 18.—L. J. Burdick has just completed a two or three hundred dollar improvement at his home on Valley street, including the laying of a cement front walk. The new set gutter has been very tastefully fitted up by Mrs. Burdick. A handsome key shell portiere has been hung, and with handsome electric light fixtures, new draperies and pictures, and fol de-rols, the room is exactly the bright snuggery its name suggests, and makes a decided improvement to the otherwise comfortable home.

Misses Helen Bergman, Mabel Bardall, Marion Hatch and Messrs. B. Baggott, Jimmie and Lee Bergman had a river trip in the Idlie-Mack Sunday afternoon and evening. They took luncheon with them, returning about nine o'clock.

Miss Fraser, mother and brother, arrived from New York the latter part of last week and will spend the winter in one of the Clarendon cottages on Grand View avenue. Miss Fraser will again have charge of the leather work and curio goods at the Clarendon.

Mrs. B. E. Martindale arrives today from Sanford and will join her husband at the Buchanan cottage. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sadler will accompany Mrs. Martindale. Mesdames Miller and Sadler are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Martindale and will be with them in the Buchanan cottage. Mr. Martindale has been the guest of E. A. Branch awaiting the arrival of his family.

Mrs. Albert Wimley joined a Daytona party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor, Mr. and Mrs. Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Stout in an all-day excursion to the Tomokas Sunday in Mr. Stout's boat, the Josephine.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson and daughter, Miss Lawson, who were temporarily at Miss Russell's, have taken rooms with Dr. and Mrs. Evenden, Oakridge ave. Mrs. Woodruff, who came with the party, has taken a room with Prof. and Mrs. Wakefield.

Dr. Evenden has purchased Miss Blakslee's east cottage, and with his family will make his permanent home in Seabreeze. This will be good news to the many friends of this popular couple. Dr. Evenden said this week are just the people to help build up a community.

A Patient Judge.

A western judge, sitting in chambers, seeing from the piles of papers in the lawyers' hands that the first case was likely to be hotly contested, asked, "What is the amount in question?" "Two dollars," said the plaintiff's counsel. "I'll pay it," said the judge, handing over the money. "Call the next case."

He had not the patience of Sir William Grant, who, after listening for two days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of a certain act, quietly observed when they had done, "That act has been repealed."

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 18.—Rev. Barns, the new pastor, preached to a congregation Sunday morning that overtaxed the seating capacity of the M. E. Church and Sunday School rooms, and extra chairs were brought in to accommodate those present. After service many remained to meet the pastor, and welcome him to the church and community. The subject of the discourse was: This One Thing I Will Do and I Shall Be Satisfied in Thy Likeness." The speech was an eloquent one in there seeking truth not to be satisfied with present attainments, grace or knowledge, but forgetting the things that are behind to reach over for a higher and more beautiful spiritual life.

Rev. Haight made the announcements of the day, and invited everybody in kindly fellowship feeling to call at the parsonage this evening to welcome and get acquainted with the new pastor and his family, and to make it a real surprise party by bringing something, eatable or money for the comfort of the new home. Bishop Fitzgerald spoke briefly and interestingly, in reminiscence of some of his experiences, after the sermon. The choir furnished excellent music, which has become almost a matter of course, with the good musical talent at the command.

C. A. Kenney has the business in the Phillips office on Seabreeze avenue.

Miss Virginia Young entertained a number of her friends by a delightful dance at the casino Friday evening. About fifteen couples were present.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Austin and two boys, Dean and Wendell, and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, from the J. J. Bolop cottage, were a private party to the Tomoka on the Cherokee Saturday.

W. A. Strickfadden was over from DeLand Saturday calling on friends.

H. H. Hall is painting signs for the streets, which will be placed for the convenience of the public. In point of fact it will be of great convenience to the tourists, who are now here in large numbers.

How the Culprit Was Detected.

Of a certain Harrow master whom Mr. Tollemache in his reminiscences refers to as Mr. Y. the following story is told: Dr. Vaughan was master of Harrow at the time:

"Mr. Y.—I am sorry, Dr. Vaughan, to have to report to you two of your monitors for drinking. Dr. V.—This is a very serious charge. When and where did it happen? Mr. Y.—This afternoon in a public house in Pinner. Dr. V.—Did you catch them flagrante delicto? Mr. Y.—No, Dr. Vaughan, I was in my study. Dr. V.—But surely you cannot possibly have seen from your study to Pinner? Mr. Y.—I have a strong telescope, Dr. Vaughan. Dr. V.—But how can you tell that it was not water they were drinking? Mr. Y.—It was gin and water. I noticed a sediment of sugar at the bottom of their glasses.

"So you refuse me admittance," complained the newly arrived spirit to St. Peter. "You turn me off into the cold." "No," replied the old saint, "into the hot."—Boston Transcript.

A Suspicion.

She—How is it your sister did not sing tonight? He—Oh, the doctor has forbidden her. He says she must not sing for six months. She—Does he live near her?

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Jan. 18.—L. Z. Burdick has just completed a two or three hundred dollar improvement at his home on Valley street, including the laying of a cement front walk. The new sun parlor has been very daintily fitted up by Mrs. Burdick. A handsome key shell portiers has been hung, and with handsome electric light fixtures, new druggets and pictures and fol de-rols, the room is exactly the bright snuggery its name suggests, and makes a decided improvement to the otherwise comfortable home.

Misses Helen Burgman, Mabel Randall, Marion Hatch and Messrs. B. Baggett, Jerome and Lee Burgman had a river trip in the Billie-Mack Sunday afternoon and evening. They took luncheon with them, returning about nine o'clock.

Miss Frazer, mother and brother, arrived from New York the latter part of last week and will spend the winter in one of the Clarendon cottages on Grand View avenue. Miss Frazer will again have charge of the leather work and curio goods at the Clarendon.

Mrs. B. E. Martindale arrives today from Sanford and will join her husband at the Buchannon cottage. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Steffey will accompany Mrs. Martindale. Mesdames Miller and Steffey are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Martindale and will be with them in the Buchanon cottage. Mr. Martindale has been the guest of E. A. Branch awaiting the arrival of his family.

Mrs. Albert Winney joined a Daytona party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor, Mr. and Mrs. Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Shear in an all-day excursion to the Tomoka Sunday in Mr. Shear's boat, the Josephine.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson and daughter, Miss Lawson, who were temporarily at Miss Russell's, have taken rooms with Dr. and Mrs. Evernden, Oakridge ave. Mrs. Woodruff, who came with the party, has taken a room with Prof. and Mrs. Wakefield.

Dr. Evernden has purchased Miss Blakeslee's east cottage, and with his family will make his permanent home in Seabreeze. This will be good news to the many friends of this popular couple, Dr. Evernden and his wife are just the people to help build up a community.

A Patient Judge.

A western judge, sitting in chambers, seeing from the piles of papers in the lawyers' hands that the first case was likely to be hotly contested, asked, "What is the amount in question?" "Two dollars," said the plaintiff's counsel. "I'll pay it," said the judge, handing over the money. "Call the next case."

He had not the patience of Sir William Grant, who, after listening for two days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of a certain act, quietly observed when they had done, "That act has been repealed."

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 18—Rev. Barze, the new pastor, preached to a congregation Sunday morning that overtaxed the seating capacity of the M. E. Church and Sunday School room, and extra chairs were brought in to accommodate those present. After service many remained to meet the pastor, and welcome him to the church and community. The subject of the discourse was: "This One Thing I Will Do and I Shall Be Satisfied in Thy Likeness." The lesson was an eloquent one to those seeking truth not to be satisfied with present attainments, grace or knowledge, but forgetting the things that are behind to reach over for a higher and more beautiful spiritual life.

Rev Haigh made the announcements of the day, and invited everybody in kindly fellowship feeling to call at the parsonage this evening to welcome and get acquainted with the new pastor and his family, and to make it a real surprise party by bringing something, eatable or money at the convenience of the doner. Bishop Fitzgerald spoke briefly and interestingly, in reminiscence of some of his experiences, after the sermon. The choir furnished excellent music, which has become almost a matter of course, with the good musical talent at its command.

C. A Kenney has his business in the Phillips office on Seabreeze avenue.

Miss Virginia Young entertained a number of her friends by a delightful dance at the casino Friday evening. About fifteen couples were present.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Austin and two boys, Doran and Wendell, and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, from the J. J. Bishop cottage, were a private party to the Tomoka on the Cherokee Saturday.

W. A. Stringfellow was over from DeLand Saturday calling on friends.

H. F. Thompson is painting signs for the streets, which will be placed for the convenience of the public. In point of fact it will be of great convenience to the tourists, who are now here in large numbers.

How the Culprit Was Detected.

Of a certain Harrow master whom Mr. Tollemache in his reminiscences refers to as Mr. Y. the following story is told. Dr. Vaughan was master of Harrow at the time:

"Mr. Y.—I am sorry, Dr. Vaughan, to have to report to you two of your monitors for drinking. Dr. V.—This is a very serious charge. When and where did it happen? Mr. Y.—This afternoon in a public house in Pinner. Dr. V.—Did you catch them flagrante delicto? Mr. Y.—No, Dr. Vaughan, I was in my study. Dr. V.—But surely you cannot possibly have seen from your study to Pinner? Mr. Y.—I have a strong telescope, Dr. Vaughan. Dr. V.—But how can you tell that it was not water they were drinking? Mr. Y.—It was gin and water. I noticed a sediment of sugar at the bottom of their glasses.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of waves washed and surf packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandahs looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom fleeked with duck and coot and many-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white-headed eagle plump for a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load to snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their bumpers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and survey the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from the cabbage-red stone great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with rifted draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as an artist's brush ever could, and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms, see the lovely holly with its exquisite berries, see the climbing vines running riot in the trees, see the cryptogamous forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention, which in they are models of convenience, and the inside and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Best and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are as many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some awkward at Bartow, place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or over callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, sassy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

"Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed."

In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the geraniums are abloom; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Ones.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a saunter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy zephyr loosens no fee, the tireless ocean and breeze are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enchanted, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona s crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy veranda's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see th climbing vines runn ng riot in the trees; see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or eve callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Gave Him All the Lot.

"So that is your final word?" said the rejected one. "Very well, then, Adelaide. In your presence I will end the life you have blighted."

He drew forth a small bottle labeled "Poison," drank off the contents and fell senseless at her feet. Did she sink beside him sobbing with remorse? No. She hastily left the room and in two minutes had returned and was kneeling beside him. Then she forced between his lips the following: Half a cup of turpentine, one pint of milk, a cup of warm soapsuds, a tablespoonful of arsenic ammonia, a cup of black coffee, a gloss of mustard and water, a gill of vinegar, the juice of a lemon, the beaten whites of six eggs and one cup of flour and water.

"Algernon," she observed coldly as he slowly opened his eyes, "it is evident you had forgotten that I am a graduate of a correspondence course in first aid. My one regret is that, as it could not on the instant ascertain whether you had taken an acid or an alkali, I was compelled to administer all the antidotes I had learned."—London Scraps.

It is said that one of the most beautiful ladies in French society today was first revealed to her husband on the walls of the salon. It was while visiting the salon in 1878 that the youthful Marquis de C. was struck by the childish beauty of a young girl, one of the prominent figures in a picture of a village fete. Her tumbled golden locks, her dancing blue eyes and the freshness and graceful abandon of her figure so fascinated him that he sought out the artist and learned from him that the "little witch" was the daughter of a poor peasant near Arthonchon, where the picture was painted. To seek out the peasant and to make the acquaintance of his fascinating daughter, child of nine summers, was soon accomplished, and the marquis lost his heart even more completely to the real than to the pictured maid. With the father's approval he had the girl educated at one of the best schools in Paris, and nine years later, on her eighteenth birthday, the maid of the village fete blossomed into the still more lovely Marquise de C.

Ivory Jelly.

The jelly was singularly pale. It at most resembled isinglass.

"It is ivory jelly," said the invalid. "My English cousins sent me a case of it from Sheffield."

"But why is it called ivory jelly?" they inquired.

"Precisely because it is made of ivory. A chief of England's ivory goes to Sheffield, and in the process of grinding and cutting it for knife handles, and so forth, a lot of ivory dust results. This dust, slender as the best flour. Of this the Sheffield folk have made jelly for many years.

"The jelly for some reason is nourishing, extremely so. The doctors prescribe it for the invalid. And of late a Sheffield firm has taken to manufacturing it on a large scale. Sheffield ivory jelly is now on the market."

"Out of courtesy to my cousins I tried it. To my surprise I found it good. My doctor, sampling it, found it good too. He told me to take the whole case."—Buffalo Express.

An Interesting Book.

A French magazine whose country home is crowded with guests during the hunting season hit upon the original idea of placing a register at the disposal of her visitors in which to record their opinions and criticisms. The pages of the richly bound book soon began to be covered with notes such as:

"Count de R. will owe 25 louis. He knows to whom."

"The green peas yesterday were learned."

"Baroness M. flirts—unfortunately not with me."

The magazine has withdrawn the register.

Parents' Hairs and Hairs.

It is possible to predict from the hair of parents the form of their children's hair. Two blue-eyed, straight haired parents will have only blue eyed, straight haired children. Two wavy haired parents may have straight, wavy or curly haired children, but the chances of curly hair are slight. Two curly haired parents may have children with either straight, wavy or curly hair, but the proportion of curly haired offspring will probably be large.—American Naturalist.

The Bolster.

The crusaders are said to have brought home with them the bolster, and, according to Dr. Castlin, their wives, in ignorance of the only rational way of using the article (i. e., lengthwise as a support for the back of a person when lying on his side and not knowing what else to do with it, put the bolster where it is still found on the beds of those who have not learned the wisdom of discarding it altogether—under the pillow.—London Chronicle.

Truth in a Turkish Bath.

"Judge," said the colored witness, "I'm hungry now. I been talkin' de truth for two hours."

"Is that the longest time you ever told it?"

"Yes, sah, an' it's had me sweatin'!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The conclusion of keeping friends does not lie in what one does for them, but in what one is not of consideration for them refrains from doing.—Henry Ibsen.

Dale, Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Farquhere, Miss Bertha Reffner, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Lew Schutterfield, Cincinnati.

The Prince George.

The following arrived at the Prince George over Sunday: Mrs. J. E. Rainer, Asbury Park, N. J., who has large hotel interests at that resort; E. C. Sears, E. G. Sisson, Pittsburg; W. N. Jean and wife, Wadesboro, N. C.; F. C. Kramer Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kirk, Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. MacNeil, the chess expert of Denver, who last year twice defeated the famous expert, Marshall is a guest for the season at the Prince George. The doctor has played a number of games with chess experts of that city, and has always come out the winner. Dr. MacNeil will meet all comers and will be glad to try a game with anyone who knows anything at all about the game.

Death of Miss Eva J. Rotzien.

Miss Eva J. Rotzien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rotzien, of this city, died Sunday morning at West Palm Beach of appendicitis.

Miss Rotzien, who was but 23 years of age, went from this place to West Palm Beach about two weeks ago and shortly after her arrival was taken ill. H. B. Sanders, with whose family she was at the time, provided for her the best of care and she was treated by two prominent physicians. An operation was performed Friday afternoon but she survived only until Sunday.

Her father, W. F. Rotzien, was with her during her illness, having been summoned by telegraph a week ago Sunday and he brought the body to Daytona this morning.

The funeral services were held at the Bingham & Maley undertaking parlors at 2:00 this afternoon, Rev. R. F. Marsh officiating and the interment was at Pinewood Cemetery.

Mrs. F. B. Wright, who is in the city from St. Augustine, is at the Daytona Hospital and Sanitarium for treatment for a few days.

Their Only Job.

"Why, Mrs. White," began the summer visitor newly returned to Sunmouth, "how those waves of yours have grown since last year! It's perfectly amazing!"

"Oh, I don't know's it's anything to wonder at," said Mrs. White sourly. "They ain't got anything else to do."—Youth's Companion.

Erudite.

"Oh, baby," exclaimed the Boston mother, "what does making cry us?"

"I really cannot say," was the unexpected answer. "I have never indulged in introspection."

Gave Him All the Lot.

"So that is your final word?" said the rejected one. "Very well, then, Arabella. In your presence I will end the life you have blighted."

He drew forth a small bottle labeled "Poison," drank off the contents and fell senseless at her feet. Did she sink beside him sobbing with remorse? No. She hastily left the room and in two minutes had returned and was kneeling beside him. Then she forced between his lips the following: Half a cup of turpentine, one pint of milk, a cup of warm soapsuds, a tablespoonful of aromatic ammonia, a cup of black coffee, a glass of mustard and water, a gill of vinegar, the juice of a lemon, the beaten whites of six eggs and one cup of flour and water.

"Algernon," she observed coldly as he slowly opened his eyes, "it is evident you had forgotten that I am a graduate of a correspondence course in first aid. My one regret is that, as I could not on the instant ascertain whether you had taken an acid or an alkali, I was compelled to administer all the antidotes I had learned."—London Scraps.

It is said that one of the most beautiful ladies in French society today was first revealed to her husband on the walls of the salon. It was while visiting the salon in 1878 that the youthful Marquis de C. was struck by the childish beauty of a young girl, one of the prominent figures in a picture of a village fete. Her tumbled golden locks, her dancing blue eyes and the freshness and graceful abandon of her figure so fascinated him that he sought out the artist and learned from him that the "little witch" was the daughter of a poor peasant near Avranches, where the picture was painted. To seek out the peasant and to make the acquaintance of his fascinating daughter, child of nine summers, was soon accomplished, and the marquis lost his heart even more completely to the real than to the pictured maid. With the father's approval he had the girl educated at one of the best schools in Paris, and nine years later, on her eighteenth birthday, the maid of the village fete blossomed into the still more lovely Marquise de C.

Ivory Jelly.

The jelly was singularly pale. It almost resembled junket.

"It is ivory jelly," said the invalid. "My English cousins sent me a case of it from Sheffield."

"But why is it called ivory jelly?" they inquired.

"Precisely because it is made of ivory. A third of England's ivory goes to Sheffield, and in the process of grinding and cutting it for knife handles, and so forth, a lot of ivory dust remains, a fine dust, similar to the best flour. Of this the Sheffield folk have made jelly for many years.

"The jelly for some reason is nourishing, extremely so. The doctors prescribe it for the anaemic. And of late a Sheffield firm has taken to manufacturing it on a large scale. Sheffield ivory jelly is now on the market.

"Out of courtesy to my cousins I tried it. To my surprise I found it good. My doctor, sampling it, found it good too. He told me to take the whole case."—Buffalo Express.

An Interesting Book.

A French marquise whose country house is crowded with guests during the hunting season hit upon the original idea of placing a register at the disposal of her visitors in which to record their desires and criticisms. The pages of the richly bound book soon began to be covered with notes such as:

"Count de R. still owes 25 louis. He knows to whom."

"The green peas yesterday were burned."

"Baroness M. flirts—unfortunately not with me."

The marquise has withdrawn the register.

Parents' Hairs and Heirs.

It is possible to predict from the hair of parents the form of their children's hair. Two blue eyed, straight haired parents will have only blue eyed, straight haired children. Two wavy haired parents may have straight, wavy or curly haired children, but the chances of curly hair are slight. Two curly haired parents may have children with either straight, wavy or curly hair, but the proportion of curly haired offspring will probably be large. —American Naturalist.

The Bolster.

The crusaders are said to have brought home with them the bolster, and, according to Dr. Cantile, their wives, in ignorance of the only rational way of using the article (i. e., lengthwise as a support for the back of a person when lying on his side) and not knowing what else to do with it, put the bolster where it is still found on the beds of those who have not learned the wisdom of discarding it altogether—under the pillow.—London Chronicle.

Truth in a Turkish Bath.

"Judge," said the colored witness, "I'm hongry now. I been tellin' de truth fer two hours!"

"Is that the longest time you ever told it?"

"Yes, suh, an' it's had me sweatin'!" —Atlanta Constitution.

The costliness of keeping friends does not lie in what one does for them, but in what one out of consideration for them refrains from doing.—Henrik Ibsen.

Dr. MacNeil, the chess expert of Denver, who last year twice defeated the famous expert, Marshall is a guest for the season at the Prince George. The doctor has played a number of games with chess experts of that city, and has always come out the winner. Dr. MacNeil will meet all comers and will be glad to try a game with anyone who knows anything at all about the game.

Death of Miss Eva J. Rotzien.

Miss Eva J. Rotzien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rotzien, of this city, died Sunday morning at West Palm Beach of appendicitis.

Miss Rotzien, who was but 23 years of age, went from this place to West Palm Beach about two weeks ago and shortly after her arrival was taken ill. H. B. Sanders, with whose family she was at the time, provided for her the best of care and she was treated by two prominent physicians. An operation was performed Friday afternoon but she survived only until Sunday.

Her father, W. F. Rotzien, was with her during her illness, having been summoned by telegraph a week ago Sunday, and he brought the body to Daytona this morning.

The funeral services were held at the Bingham & Maley undertaking parlors at 2:00 this afternoon, Rev. B. F. Marsh officiating and the interment was at Pinewood Cemetery.

Mrs. F. B. Wright, who is in the city from St. Augustine, is at the Daytona Hospital and Sanitarium for treatment for a few days.

Their Only Job.

"Why, Mrs. White," began the summer visitor newly returned to Saymouth, "how those maples of yours have grown since last year! It's perfectly amazing!"

"Oh, I don't know's it's anything to wonder at," said Mrs. White easily. "They ain't got anything else to do."—Youth's Companion.

Erudite.

"Oh, baby," exclaimed the Boston mother, "what does make you cry so?"

"I really cannot say," was the unexpected answer. "I have never indulged in introspection."

LOCAL ITEMS.

Judging from the arrivals of travelers at the City Hotel, business must be good. There were eighteen Thursday and nineteen Friday, and "Dad" says there are more in the woods.

†AUTOMOBILE FOR CHARTER—Four-cylinder Stevens-Duryea, hour or trip, call Morgan House, phone 110.

There were some queer looking craft tied up at the Gruber-Morris dock Friday. Two of the boats are of Japanese build and imported from that country. They are said to be the property of Col. Thompson, owner of the fine houseboat, Everglades, which is now at Key West. Although having their own power they are in tow of an English built launch and leave here for Miami to join the Everglades.

‡Saratoga Inn Garage, cars stored by day or week. Six-cylinder, seven-passenger Welch and four-passenger Pmore for charter, hour or trip. Rates reasonable. tf

The cement walks on Fairview avenue have been completed, adding greatly to to the appearance of this beautiful street and placing it in the front rank of Daytona's handsome avenues.
